Princeton Project in Philosophy and Religion
A Colloquium on Immanuel Kant’s
On the Miscarriage of All Philosophical Trials in Theodicy (1791)

December 1, 2023 - December 2, 2023

Speakers Include
Courtney Fugate (Florida State University)
Jacqueline Mariña (Purdue)
George Huxford (King’s College-London)
Melissa Zinkin (SUNY Binghamton)
Lawrence Pasternack (OkState)
Pablo Muchnik (Emerson)
Andrew Chignell (Princeton)
John Hare (Yale)
Susan Shell (Boston College)
Shterna Friedman (Harvard)
Scott Ferguson (Independent)

For Further Information,
Please Contact Andrew Chignell
(Chignell@princeton.edu)
A Colloquium on Immanuel Kant's On the Miscarriage of All Philosophical Trials in Theodicy (1791)

Friday, Dec 1 - Saturday, Dec 2

December 1st
8:30am-9 Coffee
9 - 10:15 Courtney Fugate (FSU), “Theodicy from Leibniz to Kant”
11:35 - 1:30 Lunch
1:30 - 2:45 John Hare (Yale), “On Artistic and Moral Wisdom in the Theodicy”
2:45-3:05 Coffee Break
3:05 - 4:20 Susan Shell (Boston College), “Kant's Political Theodicy”
4:25 - 5:40 Lawrence Pasternack (OSU), “Practical Reason and the Problem of Evil”

December 2nd
8:30am-9 Coffee
9 - 10:15 George Huxford (King’s College - London), “Theodicy and the pre-Critical Kant”
11:35 - 1:30 Lunch
1:30 - 2:45 Melissa Zinkin (SUNY), “From the Third Critique to the Theodicy: Counterpurposiveness in Kant's Account of Theodicy & the Sublime”
2:50 - 4:05 Pablo Muchnik (Emerson), “Judging the Inner Judge: On the Genesis of Kant’s Theodicy Essay”
4:05 - 4:30 Coffee Break
4:30 - 5:45 Andrew Chignell (Princeton) Scott Ferguson, “Faith, Counterpurposiveness, and Negative Wisdom”