Copies of the papers will be available on Nov. 15 at http://philosophy.princeton.edu/events.html under the Classical Philosophy Conference Announcement.

Papers may not be read in full at the sessions, and everyone attending is strongly requested to read the papers in advance.

Note: On Friday and Saturday there will be dinners on the Princeton Campus. Conference participants may attend one or the other of those dinners. If you would like to attend, please indicate a preference for Friday or Saturday to Ms. Nancy Groll of the Philosophy Department staff (609-258-4289; or email philrsvp@princeton.edu) no later than Tuesday, November 15, 2016. We will do our best to accommodate all preferences. The dinner will be without charge for all conference participants. Dinners must be reserved in advance; no exceptions please.

Princeton Area Hotel Accommodations

As in previous years, we are not able to reserve a block of rooms at the Nassau Inn in central Princeton for conference participants. Those needing hotel rooms should make their own arrangements.
