The Conference organizers would like to thank the Departments of Philosophy and Classics, the Council of the Humanities, the University Center for Human Values, and the Stanley J. Seeger '52 Center for Hellenic Studies for their generous financial support.

Copies of the papers are available on the Philosophy Events Website <http://philosophy.princeton.edu/events> under the Classical Philosophy Announcement.

Papers may not be read in full at the sessions, and everyone attending is strongly requested to read the papers in advance.

For further information on the conference, please see our webpage at <http://philosophy.princeton.edu>

Note: On Saturday there will be a dinner at the Prospect House on the Princeton Campus. Apart from a small charge for reserving a place, the dinner will be without charge for all participants. If you plan to attend, please let Ms. Brigid Sudnick of the Philosophy Department staff know in advance (609-258-4289; e-mail bsudnick@princeton.edu). Dinners must be reserved in advance for a non-refundable fee of $10 made payable by check to Princeton University. No exceptions please. (There is no charge to Princeton faculty and students.)

Princeton Area Hotel Accommodations

As in previous years, we are not able to reserve a block of rooms at the Nassau Inn in central Princeton for conference participants. Those needing hotel rooms should make their own arrangements.
